

Copyright © 2013 Paula J. MacLean

All rights reserved. No part of this book or ebook may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, without written permission of the author. Brief quotation in academic work with proper citation is permitted.

Library and Archives Canada Cataloguing in Publication

MacLean, Paula J., 1955-, author

"Following the leader": executive succession for your nonprofit / Paula J. MacLean.

ISBN 978-0-9684430-8-8

1. Executive succession. 2. Nonprofit organizations--management.

I. Title.

HD38.2.M33 2013
903512-5

658.4'07112

C2013-

Disclaimer:

The information contained in this book is intended as ideas only. The author and publisher are not providing legal or professional advice. If legal or expert advice is required, the reader is directed to seek this from competent practitioners. The author takes no responsibility for how information is used by the reader. The author is not responsible for any decisions made by the reader, or any consequences arising from these decisions.

Published in Canada by Silver Creek Press, a Division of MMCS Ltd. Printed by Priority Printing, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Cover Design by Monika Zek at 99designs.com

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments
 Preface
 A Word (or Two) about Words
 Introduction

Part 1 Beginning the Journey

The Voices of Experience

Chapter 1 A Road That Must Be Traveled

A Succession Planning Snapshot
 What Succession Planning is Not
 Executive Transition Management
 No Succession Plan Yet? You are in Good Company!
 Succession Planning and Transition Management
 Requires Leadership
 Benefits of Succession Planning and Transition Management
 Projecting Executive Turnover in the Sector
 The Demand for Leaders is Increasing
 Is the Leadership Deficit Likely to be a Crisis?
 Baby Boomer Turnover and Next Generation Leaders
 Factors Offsetting the Leadership Deficit
 A Caution about Focus on Leadership Deficits
 What are the Barriers to Succession Planning?
 Whose Job is it Anyway?

The Elephant in the Room
Board Support Required During Planning

Chapter 2 Left, Right, Left ... Getting Off on the Right Foot

7 Steps for Developing Succession and Transitions Plans
Committees During Planning, Recruitment and Transition
Executive Director Involvement? Yes, No, Maybe So!
Involvement of the Board in Operations
Conducting an Organizational Review
The Games People Play
Areas to be Covered by a Transition Plan
Founder Transitions
Reaping the Rewards of a Successful Transition

Chapter 3 Getting Your Ducks in a Row – Best Board Practices

Board Practices that Support Executive Director
Satisfaction
Contracting with Consultants and Executive Search Firms ...

Chapter 4 What Am I Doing the Rest of My Life? – Designing Your Second Act

20 Questions for Self Reflection
The Decision Wall
Driving Forces for Staying
Driving Forces for Leaving
Strategies to Support Decision Making and Designing Your Second Act
Avoiding the Major Mistakes When Planning

Your Departure
A Caution – Try Not to Over-Plan

Part 2 Creating the Road Map to Succession

The Voices of Experience

Chapter 5 Keep Calm and Carry On – Emergency Succession Planning

Steps for Creating an Emergency Succession Plan
Contents of the Emergency Succession Plan
Variations on a Theme
Review and Updating of the Emergency Succession Plan

Chapter 6 Everything Has a Life Span – Developing a Planned Departure Succession Plan

Elements of the Plan
The Resignation
Notice Period
Communication
The Search, Selection and Transition Committee
Departure Celebrations and Legacy
Organizational Assessment or Review
Compensation Review
Search and Selection
A One Year Transition Process for the New Executive
Budget Estimates
Evaluation of the Process and the Plan
Approving and Communicating the Plan
Integrating the Leader Development Program

Plan Maintenance and Updating
Sample Planned Departure Succession Plan

Chapter 7 Creating Bench Strength – Developing Leaders

Clarifying Terms
Is Internal Hiring a “Best Practice”?
The Challenges of Leader Development
Filling Down, Filling Up and Filling Across
7 Steps to Creating a Leader Development Program Making Leader Development Mandatory for Current Leaders
Creating an Enrollment Process
Assessing Emerging Leaders’ Current Competencies
Common Leader Competencies
A People-Based Approach – Leader Assessment
The Competency-Motivation Life Span
Identifying High Potential Future Leaders
The Performance-Potential Matrix
Elements of a HiPo Leader Talent Profile
Leader Development Strategies
Coaching and Mentoring are Not the Same Process
360 Degree Feedback is Crucial for All Potential
 Future Leaders
Annual Reviews and Re-Assessment
Leader Development and Retention go Hand-in-Glove
Making Leadership Attractive to Next Generation Leaders ...
A Snapshot of Training in the Nonprofit Sector
Short for Resources for Leader Development?

Chapter 8 Just When You Think You are Done – Board Succession Planning

Term Limits
Avoiding Founder’s Syndrome

Celebrate Contributions and Keep the Connection
Two Components of a Board Succession Plan
Questions to Guide Recruitment
Board Retirement Planning – Better Practices
The Four Quarters of Board Work
Desirable Qualifications and Qualities for New Members
Interview Questions for Applicants
Diversity and Balance on Your Board
Former Employees on Your Board
Succession of the Chairperson of the Board
Orientation and Ongoing Board Development

Part 3 Between Endings and New Beginnings

The Voices of Experience

Chapter 9 Creating Successful Endings - Managing Routine Departures

Getting the Timing Right
How Much Notice is Enough?
Managing the Resignation Communication
Media Releases and Ongoing Communication
Shifting Priorities of the Departing Executive Director
Unpacking Your Job
A Gift from the Departing to Incoming Executive Director ...
Honoring Tenure and Legacy
What Should be the Role of the Former Executive Director?

Chapter 10 The Gnarly Bits – Managing Non-Routine Events

What are the Gnarly Bits?
Dealing with the Dismissal of the Executive Director
Dealing with an Unhappy Exit that is Not a Dismissal
The Death of Your Executive Director
Board Conflict and Upheaval
The Board’s Response is Poorly Managed
A Weak, Disorganized, Exhausted or Fragmented
 Leadership Team
A Palace Coup
A Mess is Left Behind
The Board’s Dismissal Process was Badly Managed
Legal Action for Wrongful Dismissal

Chapter 11 The Pause that Refreshes – Do You Need an Interim Executive Director?

Responsibilities of an Interim Executive Director
The Rules of the Game
Qualifications of Interim Executive Directors
What If...?
Conducting an Organizational Assessment or Review
Projects for the New Executive Director or External Consultant
The Interim’s Final Task

Part 4 Someone New Is Driving the Bus

The Voices of Experience

Chapter 12 Who Is Behind Door #1? – Search and Selection

Grooming of Internal Successors
Believable Myths
The Major Steps of Executive Recruitment
Using an External Search Consultant or Firm
Competency Analysis – The Core of Effective Recruitment
Conducting a Compensation Review
Creating Criteria for Selection of Candidates
Age as a Criterion for Candidate Screening
Developing a Position or Candidate Profile
Developing the Position Advertisement
Posting the Position
Directly Sourcing Potential Candidates
Screening Applications
Managing Internal Employee and Board Applications
Candidate Confidentiality
Conducting Interviews
Behavioural Interviewing and Hypothetical Questions
References, Criminal, Credential and Background Checking
Shortlisting and Presenting the Top Candidates
Second Interviews and Other Post-Interview Options
Breaking a Tie between Two Candidates
Second Competitions
Offering the Position and Offer Letter
Negotiating Compensation
Letter of Agreement or Contracts

Chapter 13 New Beginnings – Transition of Your New Executive Director

Executive Director Job Satisfaction
The Role of the Board and Transition Committee
The Role of the Departing Executive Director
Your First Week on the Job
A Plan for the First Three to Six Months
Essential Information During Orientation
Creating Connections and Developing Your Network
Mentoring and Coaching
Early Board Actions Support Successful Transition
Board Monitoring and Evaluation
... And the years and Decades that Follow

Afterword

References

Books by Paula J. MacLean are available ONLY from www.silvercreekpress.ca. Volume discounts and discounts to colleges, universities and resellers are available. Shipping is fast and FREE on all orders. All books are also available as instantly downloadable ebooks.

Silver Creek Press publishes two free 10 Tips Newsletters for managers, supervisors and volunteer board members. Please visit www.silvercreekpress.ca and click the Newsletters button to sign-up for either or both newsletters.